

Belle Ting, Violin

<https://www.belleting.com>

Canadian violinist Belle Ting is quickly building an international career, winning top accolades in competitions including the International Thomas and Evon Cooper Violin Competition, the 24. International Johannes Brahms Competition, the International Isaac Stern Violin Competition and most recently, the 16th International Khachaturian Violin Competition, where she also won the Audience Award.

Born in Taipei, Belle began her musical studies at the age of seven and studies at the University of Music and Performing Arts in Vienna, where she was one of the youngest recipients of the university's CARSA Rising Star Award.

Belle has performed with the orchestras including the Polish Baltic Philharmonic, the National Taiwan Symphony Orchestra, Shanghai Symphony Orchestra, Cleveland Symphony Orchestra, Moscow State Philharmonic and the Odense Symphony Orchestra under conductors such as Lan Shui, Jahja Ling, Zhang Jiemin, Gabor Kali, Vladimir Kiradjiev and Michael Stern, and has played at numerous festivals including the Verbier Festival in Switzerland and the International Kirishima Music Festival in Japan.

Her performances have been featured in numerous radio, television and digital broadcasts, including ORF "Licht ins Dunkel", Classic FM Taiwan and medici.tv: In November 2021, her debut album "Impressions" was released by KNS Classical.

Belle is the founder of "Classics From the Other Side", a chamber music collective bringing together young musicians from Asia and Europe to connect cultures through collaboration.